Rainfall Fills Lake Cachuma

Storms during the first part of January were enough to completely fill Lake Cachuma, the city's primary water supply source. Gibraltar Reservoir is also full. As a result, drought is no longer a near-term concern on the South Coast.

However, there will be future droughts and the city will continue to plan and operate its water supply system with that in mind. Water conservation is always a good idea, and city water customers are urged to continue efforts to use water efficiently. Our award-winning conservation program is always available to help, with FREE water check-ups and lots of good information about indoor and outdoor water savings. Call (805) 564-5460, or visit the city's website at www.SantaBarbaraCA.gov, or Santa Barbara's regional water website at www.sbwater.org.
